I

C

I love your figure wrapped in white sheets

D

in the dawn

D

I need to leave you but there's far too much going on

B

C

look at all the world that lingers

C

just beyond the tips of our fingers

D

and I am bad at goodbye

you

you don't need to wear your heart out anymore

I

I got your back so don't you worry
'bout what's in store

let the world just move around us

our room's a garden and fortress

and I am bad

at goodbye

I

I don't ever want to try get you off my mind

I

I hope that I will always be this bad
at goodbye
