

Lately

By Andrew Sullivan - 2010 lately, you've been running round working like crazy

it seems that you're never lazy until the day is through baby I know sometimes it's hard to find a way to ease your mind so I know just what we'll do

CHORUS

come right here and close your eyes

then fasten your lips to mine we're gonna do the things that lovers do

I'll reach out and take your hand and I'm so blessed to be your man that I wanna tell the whole wide world the truth

I'm out of my league to be loved by a girl like you

Lady i'm so lucky because you love me

cause even when life is ugly

I know that I've got you baby you know the way this world can tug

but even more how just one hug can turn it all around

BRIDGE

and even though we'll grow all old and rough

we'll always see the love in each others' eyes because we know that when we said I do

we knew it was the truth

we knew it was the truth
