

“Nobody”

by Andrew Sullivan

08/09/2011

One

One less than two can be no fun it can be ruining
It was me before i knew you would be happening
I did not think it would be enough because I didn't see
I didn't believe

This is far more than I could deserve
Because of you I know just what love is worth

I simply must confess

No way can I suppress

Nobody loves me the way you do

With you I'm twice the man

You keep me in high demand

Nobody loves me the way you do

Two

One more than one can get things done like me and you have seen
We don't have much but what we have is truly everything
Everything we have is nothing compared to you and me
So we better believe

This love is far more than we could deserve
We better know everything that love is worth