

Quarter Past Two
By Andrew Sullivan - 2010

I'll pick you up at a quarter past two and we can do whatever you like and you and I have all afternoon it sure is nice cause there's nothing more I'd like than to

CHORUS

Be with you
To be with you

We can take my truck down to the coast and we can do whatever you like and I know that you like it there the most the view sure is nice, and there's nothing more I'd like than to

(to chorus)

and even if it rains to us it's all the same it could not hurt the way we feel and if the mood is right i'll kiss you in the moonlight my worries will be few cause there's nothing more I'd rather do than

(to chorus)

I'm off of work and I just found out and you and I are going out we don't want this time to end an d we'll see the moon and stars again girl I know this much is true there's nothing more I'd rather do than
