

"Where You Are"
By Andrew Sullivan
March 16, 2017

D G D G
The lights of Las Vegas don't shine the way that they used to
A G D (G D)
The showgirls and magic and money don't have the same charm
D G D G
It's harder and harder to breathe in all of the smoke-filled rooms
A G D (G D)
The streets filled with lovers and losers reopening old scars

G D (G D)
Baby without you, life is no better I'm sure
G A
There is no doubt you have left this heart begging for more
Bm G
I shot for the moon and the stars
A Bm
I've traveled the world near and far
G A D
But baby without you, I'd give it all to be where you are

D G D G
That famous old tower in France don't stand like it used to
A G D (G D)
The city of love just don't have any room left for me
D G D G
All the old artists and writers, I don't know what they got into
A G D (G D)
But all the champagne in the world wouldn't do much for me